Onboarding and Access

Q: I joined but my project access hasn't come through yet. What do I do? A: Raise a ticket under IT Helpdesk > Access Request with your Employee ID, project name, and the specific tool/system. Most access requests are resolved within 2 working days; escalate to your HRBP if it exceeds 5 working days.

Q: My laptop wasn't delivered before my joining date. Can I still start? A: Yes. You can complete Day 1 e-learning and orientation using a loaner device or the welcome desk setup; IT will arrange delivery within the first few days. Contact your HRBP if no laptop arrives within Week 1.

Q: How do I know which tower I'm allocated to? A: Your offer letter or allocation email from your Resource Manager (RM) specifies the tower: AuthEnq, EIS, ITS, Digital, or Operations. If unclear, check HR Portal > My Profile > Project Details, or ask your RM directly.

Payroll and Benefits

Q: When will I get my first salary? A: Salary is processed for the month in which you join, prorated for the days worked, credited on the standard last-working-day cycle. If you joined mid-month, expect a prorated amount in that month's cycle.

Q: How do I add a nominee for Provident Fund (PF)? A: HR Portal > Payroll > PF Nomination. This should be completed within your first month; it can be updated later if circumstances change (marriage, new dependent, etc).

Q: I haven't received my insurance card yet. Is this normal? A: Yes, group medical insurance enrollment typically takes 15-20 working days to reflect after joining. E-cards are usually available before the physical card; check HR Portal > Benefits > Insurance.

Leave and Attendance

Q: Can I take leave during my probation period? A: Yes, leave entitlement begins from your date of joining, though some companies/projects prefer limiting non-essential leave during probation — check with your manager for project-specific expectations.

Q: What happens if I forget to apply for leave before taking a day off? A: Apply for it retroactively as soon as possible and regularize your attendance; repeated unapplied absences can lead to Loss of Pay deductions.

Training and Development

Q: I'm experienced but new to this project — do I need to redo all mandatory trainings? A: No. Only trainings that have expired or are project/tower-specific to your new assignment need to be completed. Check Learning Portal > My Trainings > Status before redoing anything.

Q: Where can I find suggested learning paths beyond mandatory trainings? A: Learning Portal > Explore > Recommended for You, personalized based on your tower, role, and skill profile.

Security and Confidentiality

Q: Can I use ChatGPT or similar AI tools for project work? A: Only the company-approved internal AI assistant may be used with any project or client-related information. Public AI tools accessed through personal accounts must never receive client data, code, or documents — see IT Security and Acceptable Use Policy (POL-SEC-003).

Q: Is it okay to take a quick photo of my screen to ask a friend for coding help? A: No. This is explicitly prohibited regardless of intent — see Code of Conduct and Confidentiality Policy (POL-COC-001), Section 2.

Project and Tower Questions

Q: What's the difference between AuthEnq and EIS towers? A: AuthEnq focuses on authentication, identity, and access management systems. EIS (Enterprise Information Systems) focuses on ERP and large-scale enterprise data/integration systems. Both are distinct from ITS (infrastructure/service management), Digital (engineering/cloud-native development), and Operations (process and service delivery).

Q: I want to move to a different tower. How does that work? A: Internal mobility requests go through your RM and HRBP; openings are also posted on the Internal Job Portal. There is typically a minimum tenure requirement (commonly 12 months) on your current project before an internal move is approved, though exceptions exist for business needs.

Exit and Offboarding

Q: What is the standard notice period? A: Typically 60-90 days depending on grade and role, as specified in your offer letter and appointment terms.

Q: When is the Full and Final (F&F) settlement processed? A: Typically within 45 days of your last working day, subject to clearance from IT, Finance, Project, and Admin departments.
